TABLE OF CONTENTS

COVER: Montage showing various aspects of the new, completed Candlestick Park. Photographs and montage work done by Cal Pictures, San Francisco.

Mrs. Anthony J. Morabito   Mrs. Victor P. Morabito

The San Francisco 49ers, oldest original major league professional football franchise west of the Mississippi, last year opened their first season in Candlestick Park as defending champions of the NFC Western Division. Both team and stadium had undergone building programs—and, although the Candlestick program was not yet complete, each took its place with the class of the NFL.

This year, testimony to the progress of Coach Dick Nolan's building program, the 49ers are again defending champions of the Western Division, and the Candlestick Park building program is complete, making the 1972 outlook for professional football in San Francisco a thoroughly positive situation.

When Anthony J. "Tony" Morabito, the club's founder, watched the first 49er team take the field in 1946, he had set in motion the first major league professional sports operation in the State of California.

Tony, later joined by his younger brother, Victor, survived those early days, many of them tough, struggling days, to achieve a level of success with the 49ers which enabled sports fans in Northern California, in fact, the entire state, to enjoy what has become one of the national hotbeds of professional sport.

In the beginning, the 49ers were members of the All-America Football Conference. They joined the National Football League prior to the 1950 season.

Tony Morabito passed away during the 1957 season, to be succeeded by Vic Morabito and the club's chief executive officer. Upon Vic's death, in 1964, Louis G. Spadia, then general manager, became the club's top working executive. He was named president prior to the 1967 season.

The San Francisco 49ers are a limited partnership with the major interest being held by Mrs. Anthony J. Morabito and Mrs. Victor P. Morabito.

FORTY NINER PROSPECTUS — 1972

OFFENSE

Receivers: The starting corps returning includes Gene Washington, established as one of the top three wide receivers in the game, Dick Witcher, an outstanding blocker and "tough catch" artist who will be entering his seventh season, and tight end Ted Kwalick, whose 52 catches for 664 yards and five TDs led 49er receivers and ranked second in the NFC in 1971. Washington, going into his fourth season, was All-NFC for the third straight year, and, along with Kwalick, was a starter for the NFC in the Pro Bowl. It was Gene's third start in the post-season all-star game. He ranked fifth among NFC pass receivers with 46 catches, but his 884 yards was first in the NFC, third in the NFL. Witcher, utilized primarily as a decoy and blocker, caught 18 for 250 yards, including a 50-yd. TD against St. Louis. Other veterans include John Isenbarger, switched from running back, Preston Riley, Jimmy Thomas and Tony Harris, all blessed with good speed. At tight end, Kwalick is backed by Bob Windsor, an outstanding performer who started for three years before losing the job to Kwalick last season. Change, if any, will come from the fact that the 49ers' first draft choice was consensus All-American Terry Beasley, fast, tough wide receiver from Auburn.

TED KWALICK

Running backs: Another strong situation with Ken Willard and Vic Washington, who had 855 yards and 811 yards, respectively, last season as the returning starters. Willard, who has a career mark of 5,328 yards, will be into his eighth season. He was the fifth-leading rusher in the NFC last year. Washington, the outside, breakaway threat the 49ers sought for so many years, had a brilliant rookie season, finished sixth among NFC rushers, played in the Pro Bowl. Behind Willard stands young veteran Larry Schreiber, who averaged 5.3 yards a carry last year as a rookie. Veteran Doug Cunningham, starter before Vic's arrival is the other backup man. And there is high-rated Joe Orduna, the former Nebraska ace, who served on the 49er taxi squad last year after being injured late in the pre-season.

Quarterback: John Brodie, age 37, and into his 16th year as a pro and 49er, is still the man. Healthy and confident, Brodie's highly-polished skills are at their peak and there is every indication he will continue to be a commanding figure among NFL quarterbacks. Steve Spurrier, who has thrown only eight passes in the past two seasons, still stands as the backup man, with Joe Reed, promising youngster from Mississippi State, returning after a year on the taxi squad.

Line: In the past two seasons 49er quarterbacks have been sacked only 19 times (eight in 1970, 11 last year) and the club running game jumped from 10th in the NFC in 1970 to fifth last year. Both factors indicate the effectiveness of "The Protectors," as the 49er offensive line is known. The unit comes back intact for the third year. Forrest Blue, the giant center, took his place as an All-Pro last year, his fourth season, and he is flanked by strong, mobile guards Woody Peoples (5th season) and Randy Beisler (7th season), and tackles Cas Banaszek (5th season) and Len Rohde (13th year). Elmer Collett, returning for his fifth season, gives good depth at guard and second-year man John Watson, a seventh-round choice a year ago, developed rapidly as a tackle last year. Also slated to get a good look are last year's taxi squad members Ernie Janet (6-4, 250) and Willie Parker (6-3, 239).

DEFENSE

Line: San Francisco pass rush sacked opponent QBs 38 times last season to rank second to Dallas (43) in the NFC and third (Denver had 44 sacks) in the NFL. Off-season knee injury and subsequent surgery for brilliant second-year defensive end Cedrick Hardman (he had 18 sacks alone) cast some pall on the future, but prognosis is good for his return in 1972. If not, four-year veteran Bill Belk, whom Hardman replaced as a starter, can move in. The remainder of the group, headed by super technician Charlie Krueger, entering his 14th season, will be back. Earl Edwards, 6-6, 272, goes into his fourth year with a growing reputation for excellence, and Tommy Hart, the quiet one, is as fast, strong and effective as Hardman. Hart goes into his fifth year. Depth comes from Big Bob Hoskins, in his third year.

Linebackers: All-Pro Dave Wilcox, rising star Frank Nunley and three-year starter Skip Vanderbundt make up the regular corps. Wilcox is firmly established among the best outside linebackers playing, while Nunley's enthusiasm and imaginative approach have attracted a lot of attention in the past two seasons. Vanderbundt, who has had to fight off injuries, had his best season last year. Jim Sniadecki, like Vanderbundt, a fourth-year man, is a strong backup man on the outside, and veteran Ed Beard is a good middle linebacker and serves as special teams captain.

Secondary: The trade of free safety Roosevelt Taylor to the Washington Redskins opens a job in this unit, which added experienced depth by having to survive an epidemic of injury last year. Taylor missed two games last season and the job was ably handled by Mike Simpson, who, going into his third season, must be considered the leading candidate to fill the vacancy. The rest of the group is of proven high calibre with All-Pro Jimmy Johnson at left corner, young Bruce Taylor, who was a starter with Johnson on the NFC Pro Bowl team last year, at right corner, and tough, emphatic-tackling Mel Phillips at strong safety. Johnny Fuller, who also saw a lot of action last year, is good depth, and the club drafted four defensive backs, among them second-round choice Ralph McGill of Tulsa.

Special Teams: With Bruce Gossett handling the placekicking, Bruce Taylor returning punts and Vic Washington returning kickoffs, San Francisco's special teams are in pretty good shape. Gossett, who kicked 32 of 32 extra points and 23 of 36 field goals for 101 points, ranked third in scoring in the NFC and fifth in the NFL. Taylor finished sixth among individual punt returners last year after leading the league as a rookie, but still had more yardage (235) than any other punt returner in the NFC, and Washington ranked eighth in kickoff returns as a rookie last year with 858 yards on 33 returns. San Francisco led the NFC in punt return coverage (44-yds. on just 19 returns of 51 punts), but sagged to 11th in kickoff returns.

Joined 49ers: No. 1 draft choice prior to 1957 season.

PRO: This is his 16th year of professional football, and his 16th year as a San Francisco 49er, the only 49er ever to have played that many years with the team. Firmly established as one of the best quarterbacks in the game, Brodie has now led his team to back-to-back NFC Western Division titles (1970-71), through two playoff games and into the NFC championship game both years. Last year completed 53.7% of his passes (208 of 387), amassed more yardage (2,642) and more TDs (18) than any other NFC quarterback. Twenty-four interceptions hurt, however, and he finished 6th in NFC standings after having led the entire NFL in 1970, been unanimous All-Pro and M.V.P. Led the NFC, for the 2nd-consecutive year, in 200-yd.-plus games, with eight, after having had seven in both 1969 and 1970. Best single game performance last year was against Philadelphia when he completed 14 of 28 for 262 yds., 3 TDs. Has an incredible 55% completion mark for his career (2301 of 4187), is nearing the 30,000-yd. mark (29,517) (only Unitas with 38,657 and Tittle with 33,070 have thus far surpassed 30,000), and is one of only seven QBs to have thrown more than 200 TDs (202). His 2,301 career completions lead the NFC and are second to Unitas' 2,708. Has thrown 204 interceptions. Brodie ranks 4th among NFC active passers, 6th in the NFL and 3rd on the Hall of Fame All-Time rankings. Has been All-Pro twice (1965, 1970) and appeared in the Pro Bowl following each of those years. Has had only three seasons in which he completed less than 50% of his passes. No. 37 JAMES EARL JOHNSON

Pos.		Ht.	Wt. College	Pro Yr.	Off-Season Residence
CB	3/31/38 (34)	6-2	187 UCLA	12	San Mateo, Calif.

Joined 49ers: First of three first-round draft choices (Bernie Casey, Billy Kilmer were the others) prior to the 1961 season.

PRO: One of the truly expert defensive backs in the game, Johnson has been named All-Pro each of the last three seasons and has been chosen to the Pro Bowl all three years. Now has a 60 consecutive games streak going despite having suffered a broken wrist in the 9th game last season. Played fulltime in the remaining games of the regular season, plus two playoff games. For his courageous performance, Jimmy was honored by the Professional Football Writers of America with their prestigious George Halas Award at season's end. Recognition of Jimmy's talents was a while coming simply because his expertise discouraged opponent offenses from testing him very often with the result he has never ranked very high in lists of interceptors. In 10 years as a starter in the 49er secondary, has intercepted 33 passes, returned them 484 yards, two TDs. Broke in as a defender as a rookie, intercepted 5 passes, returned them 116 yards. Switched to offense the following year, wound up the team's leading receiver with 34 catches for 627 yards, four TDs. Went back to defense as a starter in 1963. Won the 49ers' Len Eshmont Award after the 1969 season.

COLLEGE: Played wingback and defensive back in earning 3 varsity football letters at UCLA, one at Santa Monica City College. Also was an outstanding track man at UCLA with a :13.9 flight of high hurdles and a 25-foot broad jump to his credit. Was an honor roll student in his junior and senior years.

PERSONAL: Born in Dallas, Tex., but graduated from Kingsburg High School in Kingsburg, Calif. Has two brothers (including former Olympic decathlon champ, Rafer) and two sisters. Enjoys off-season travel, has toured Europe, parts of the Orient and Pacific, Africa and South America. Married, wife's name is Gisela. Three plays later, John Brodie hit Gene Washington on a 78-yard TD play. Intercepted one pass, returned it 7-yds. last year. Now has six interceptions, 49 yards in returns. Because of his intensity, enthusiasm and total optimism, his coaches call him "The Baby Faced Assassin." Teammates have nicknamed him "Fudge Hammer" because "he looks so sweet, but hits so hard." This will be his 3rd full season as starting middle backer. He gained the job after the 4th game of the 1969 season when the previous starter was injured.

JACK WHITE
Vice-President for Personnel

One of the best-known and widely respected sports administrators in the business, Jack White, who has served the 49ers as general manager for the past five years, expands his responsibilities and takes on the title of vice-president for personnel.
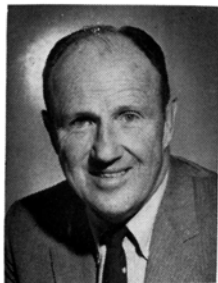

With the retirement of Lynn O. (Pappy) Waldorf, who had been Director of Personnel for the 49ers since 1957, White now assumes the responsibility of operating the club's personnel department, including scouting and player relations.

White, who had been a part-time talent scout for the club for some 14 years, became a full-time 49er in 1965, when he became director of scouting. He was appointed general manager prior to the 1967 season when Lou Spadia became club president.

White's experience in professional sport has covered both football and baseball. He was a pro football player, and, later, an assistant coach with the old New York Yankee football team in the All-America Conference.

Still later, he joined the New York Yankee baseball organization and served in capacities which ranged from general manager of their Richmond, Va., farm club, to business and ticket manager for the parent club.

White, wife Mary, and children Susan and John now live in Palo Alto.

SCOUTING DEPARTMENT

The San Francisco 49ers are members of a four-team talent scouting organization known at "Quadra." Other member teams are Dallas, Los Angeles and San Diego.

Headquarters for the organization, which is directed by long-time football coach and scout Hamp Pool, is in Palo Alto, California. "Quadra" employs nine full-time scouts.

In addition to their cooperative effort with "Quadra," the 49ers have a full-time eight-man talent department comprised of five staff scouts and three administrative assistants under the direction of Jack White.

Staff scouts are John Michelosen, former University of Pittsburgh and Pittsburgh Steeler coach; John Nikcevich, former college coach; Clarence "Ace" Parker, all-time football great recently inducted into Pro Football's Hall of Fame; Joe "The Jet" Perry, one of the game's best-ever ball carriers as a 49er and also a member of Pro Football's Hall of Fame; and Joe Echols, veteran collegiate football coach.

Assistant to the Vice-President for Personnel is a new addition to the staff, Bill Gilbert.

Administrative assistants in the scouting department are Roy Gilbert and Rick Morabito.

49ERS 6, RAMS 17
Memorial Coliseum (80,050)

Two Bruce Gossett FGs were the only offense the 49ers could gather as they fell a half game off the pace in the NFC West race. The Ram scoring was set up by interceptions, three by Gene Howard and another score by Jim Nettles on a 27-yard TD pass interception return. The 49er offense gained over 200 yards more than the Rams in total offense, 382 to 173. But the demise of the 49ers centered around two things, four pass interceptions and 108 yards in penalties.

Washington also tallied twice while QB John Brodie carried for 1-yard and a score. Joe Namath made his season debut after Bob Davis was hurt in the second quarter and threw three TD passes.

NFC DIVISIONAL PLAYOFF

49ERS 24, REDSKINS 20
Candlestick Park (45,364)

Bob Hoskins, a reserve defensive lineman and member of the 49er special teams, scored the clinching touchdown for the 49ers by recovering a bad snap from center that went through the legs of Washington punter Mike Bragg in a 24-20 victory that put the 49ers in the NFC Championship game. San Francisco came back from a 10-3 halftime deficit with three second-half touchdowns, including a beautifully executed 78-yard scoring pass from John Brodie to Gene Washington. Brodie also passed to Bob Windsor for his second TD pass of the day.

NFC CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

49ERS 3, COWBOYS 14
Texas Stadium (66,311)

For the second year in a row the 49ers met the Cowboys in the NFC Championship game. The game was dominated by superb defense on both teams' parts and as is the case in these games, mistakes prove to be the deciding factor. Dallas managed to intercept three John Brodie passes, the most damaging by DE George Andrie which set up the first score of the game. Led by Cedric Hardman the 49er defensive line managed to sack Cowboy QB Roger Staubach six times for 31 yards. But in the end it was Staubach's scrambling that eventually led to the 49ers' demise.

ESHMONT MEMORIAL AWARD—A secret ballot by 49er players the night before the last game of the season determines the winner of the Len Eshmont Memorial Award—a $1,000 watch. Len, a Fordham graduate, was a member of the first 49er squad in 1946. He coached at the Naval Academy and the University of Virginia before his untimely death in May, 1957. 49er founder Tony Morabito established the award in 1957. Y. A. Tittle was the first winner. Ed Beard won it in 1971.

THE FORTY NINER STORY — 1946-1971

From a modest beginning in 1946, the San Francisco 49ers have grown into one of the most flourishing franchises in professional sports.

A major league football franchise in the City by the Golden Gate had long been the cherished dream of Anthony J. (Tony) Morabito, a native son and 1931 graduate of the University of Santa Clara. Failing to win recognition from the National League, Tony turned to the All-America Conference, which began operations in 1946 with the late Arch Ward, sports editor of the Chicago Tribune, as the guiding genius.

Although the AAC went under after four years of intense competition with the NFL, it proved Morabito's point that San Francisco was a major league city. Sports fans of the entire Bay Area took the 49ers to their hearts and attendance grew by the proverbial leaps and bounds.

The club's success was predicated on Tony's oft-repeated slogan of "Go first class or not at all," and his early organization was built around such honored names as Lawrence T. (Buck) Shaw, head coach; and Frankie Albert, Norm Standlee, Alyn Beals, Johnny Strzykalski and Len Eshmont—all of whom were already top drawing cards in collegiate and pro football.

The 49ers were the perennial runners-up to the mighty Cleveland Browns throughout the history of the AAC and, masterminded by Shaw on the bench and Albert on the field, became noted nationally for daring, colorful football. The AAC ended its short but exciting life when the Browns defeated the 49ers, 21-7, in the championship game of 1949, San Francisco, Cleveland and Baltimore became members of the NFL.

In 1970 and 1971, their 21st and 22nd years as members of the National Football League, the 49ers won back-to-back NFC Western Division titles, won their first playoff game each year before bowing in NFC championship battles with the Dallas Cowboys.

In those two years of their greatest accomplishments, they remained what they had always been, an exciting, colorful football team manned by many of the game's greatest players.

49ER STORY (Con't)

Here are the highlights, beginning with the first year in the NFL:

1950—The 49ers fell flat on their faces in their NFL debut, winning only three games. A rival coach described them as "not big enough or tough enough."

1951—In an amazing reversal of form sparked by a great rookie group, the 49ers were in the race to the final day and finished only a half game off the top. Led by Hardy Brown and his famed "shoulder tackle," the club had one of the toughest defensive units in the league. Y. A. Tittle and Billy Wilson began their great careers.

1952—After a blazing start, the 49ers slumped in midseason. It can't be written off as unsuccessful for Hugh (The King) McElhenny came off the University of Washington campus to become "Player of the Year" and the most feared runner in football.

1953—The 49ers had their best NFL showing, 9-3, normally good enough for a championship. But Detroit was 10-2. Two of the San Francisco losses came with Tittle benched because of a severe facial injury. The three defeats were by a total of nine points. Joe (Jet) Perry became one of the few players in pro history to gain more than 1,000 yards in a single season. Gordy Soltau was the league's top scorer for the second straight year.

1954—Early momentum was broken by injuries to key players such as Tittle, McElhenny, and Joe Perry. Perry gained more than 1,000 yards again, the first man ever to achieve this distinction.

1955—With McElhenny hobbled by a foot injury, the 49ers had their second worst season in history under Norman P. Strader who succeeded Shaw as head coach.

1956—In Albert's first year at the helm, the 49ers were bogged in last place at midseason with a 1-6 record. They won four and tied one of their last five games for a brilliant stretch drive.

1957—This undoubtedly was the most emotional and dramatic season in 49er history. Every game was a "Cliffhanger" and the "Alley-Oop" pass from Tittle to rookie R. C Owens became a household byword. Emotions reached a peak when the beloved Tony Morabito collapsed and died of a heart attack at the Chicago Bears game on Oct. 27. Trailing, 17-7, the 49ers fought back for their greatest victory of all time, 21-17. The magnificent Wilson caught a pass from Tittle for the winning touchdown in the fourth quarter. Tied with Detroit at 8-4 when the season ended, the 49ers lost the playoff game, 31-27, although they held a 27-7 lead in the third quarter.

1958—An up-and-down season which finished on a high note when Green Bay and Baltimore were defeated in the last two games. The 6-6 record, however, was blackened by the 33-3 and 56-7 lacings at the hands of Los Angeles and Albert resigned at the end of the year.

1959—With Hickey in charge, the 49ers were in contention all the way and John Brodie came into his own at quarterback when he led the team to a 21-20 upset of Cleveland. J. D. Smith, converted from a defensive back, became the second 49er to accumulate more than 1,000 yards rushing.

1960—Hickey saved a seemingly hopeless season when he installed his Shotgun attack and the club captured four of the last five games to finish in a tie for second place. Third-string quarterback Bobby Waters threw the passes that upset Baltimore, 30-22, in the final two minutes.

1961—The success of Hickey's Shotgun amazed the football world, especially the 49-0 victory over Detroit. Quarterback Bill Kilmer, a passing-running rookie from UCLA, was made to order for the new offense. When the Shotgun was stopped, Brodie took over again in the T and had the finest season in 49er q.b. annals. Indicating the evenness of NFL competition, the 49ers were playing for a second-place tie, plus a trip to the Runner-up Bowl at Miami, or a fifth-place position on the last day of the season. The Colts again won by three points, but 1961 must remain as one of the most exciting and interesting years in 49er history.

1962—For the first time since 1956, the 49ers finished the frustrating season with more defeats than victories. In so doing, the honored adage of "it's easier to win at home than on the road," proved false—the 49ers won only one of seven at home, but captured five of seven road contests.

1963—Injuries in multitude to key personnel started the 49ers off to a disappointing 2-12 league season. One of the victories, however, was a smashing 20-14 upset of ultimate World Champion Chicago, the only league defeat suffered by the Bears all season.

1964—Club co-founder Victor P. Morabito died of a heart attack in May. Injury to key personnel prevented the 49ers from gaining enough offensive momentum to forge a winning season, although they proved to be one of the toughest defensive clubs in the league. Outstanding rookie performances by end Dave Parks, quarterback George Mira and linebacker Dave Wilcox also took some of the sting from the 4-10 overall record.

1965—Outstanding offensive performances enabled the 49ers to jump from the bottom to fourth place in the Western Division as the team led the NFL in both scoring and total offense. John Brodie was the most productive passer in the NFL, Dave Parks led the league in receiving and rookie Ken Willard and veteran John David Crow, acquired in an off-season trade, led a strong ground game. The over-all record was 7-6-1 and the season-opening 52-24 beating of the Chicago Bears marked the largest number of points ever scored by the 49ers in NFL play.

1966—After a somewhat slow start, the 49ers got in gear just before midway in the season and became one of only two teams to beat the eventual World Champion Green Bay Packers. After that, they rolled to a respectable 6-6-2 record and were in the battle for second place in the Western Division until the final league game. Guard John Thomas and end Dave Parks were All Pro, and they joined guard Howard Mudd, center Bruce Bosley, fullback Ken Willard and linebacker Dave Wilcox in the Pro Bowl.

1967—An auspicious start (they were 5-1) disintegrated into disappointment for the 49ers as injuries took a heavy toll and a six-game losing streak took them out of the running. Quarterback George Mira came off the bench to lead the squad to two season-ending victories and salvage a 7-7 record. There were bright spots, however, as, with John Brodie in fine form, the 49ers were the only team to beat the power-laden Rams in a league game, guard Howard Mudd and linebacker Dave Wilcox were named to All-Pro teams, and Mudd and center Bruce Bosley played in the Pro Bowl for the second straight time.

1968—Under new coach Dick Nolan the 49ers posted a 7-6-1 record as the season turned on key wins over New York, 26-10, and Green Bay, 27-20. Brilliant performances by QB John Brodie, receiver Clif McNeil and running back Ken Willard and defensive back Kermit Alexander, sparked a revitalized defense. McNeil and guard Howard Mudd were chosen All-NFL, and joined by Wilcox, Willard and Alexander in the Pro Bowl.

1969—Beset by injuries that nearly decimated the defensive unit, the 49ers struggled through the early part of the season, went five games before beating Baltimore, the first time they had done that in 13 previous games. It got a little better after that (final record was 4-8-2) and five players—Jim Johnson, Dave Wilcox, Elmer Collett, Ken Willard and rookie Gene Washington—were selected for the Pro Bowl. Johnson was also All-Pro and winner of the Eshmont Award.

1970—This was the greatest year since the club became a member of the NFL in 1950. The 10-3-1 record was the best as an NFL club, the Western Division (NFC) championship was the first in the NFL. In a season of superlatives, John Brodie was the NFL's "Player of the Year," Bruce Taylor was NFC "Rookie of the Year," Coach Dick Nolan was a near-unanimous choice as NFC "Coach of the Year." Brodie, receiver Gene Washington, linebacker Dave Wilcox and cornerback Jimmy Johnson were All-Pro and joined by tackle Len Rohde in being selected for the Pro Bowl.

1971—The 49ers forged a 9-5-0 record and won their second consecutive NFC Western Division title, cinching the crown on the final day by beating Detroit, 31-27, the identical score by which the Lions had knocked the 49ers out of championship play in the bitterly-remembered 1957 game. The season was also the club's first in its plush new home, Candlestick Park. Center Forrest Blue, linebacker Dave Wilcox and cornerback Jimmy Johnson were All-Pro and joined in the Pro Bowl by Ted Kwalick, Gene Washington, Vic Washington, Cedrick Hardman and Bruce Taylor.

49ERS ON TELEVISION

Forty Niner pre-season games from Jacksonville, Fla., against the Jets, and from San Diego, against the Chargers, will be telecast to The Bay Area by KTVU, Channel 2, with the station's sports director Bob Starr and former 49er and Hall of Famer Leo Nomellini as commentators. During the regular season the 49ers will be on national television four times, the first time being Oct. 8, when they play the Rams in Los Angeles.

The second time will be Thanksgiving Day when they meet the Dallas Cowboys in Dallas, then they will be on Monday night, Dec. 4, against the Rams in Candlestick, and the final game of the season, Saturday, Dec. 16, against the Minnesota Vikings at Candlestick.

STADIUM INFORMATION
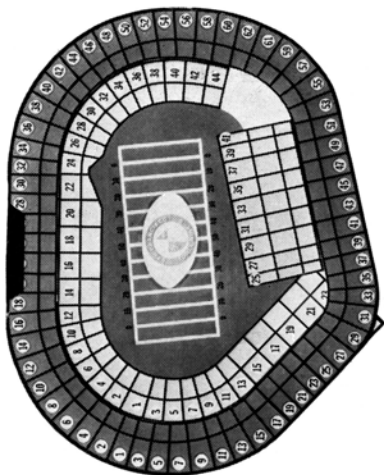

Last year the San Francisco 49ers opened their first season in Candlestick Park as defending champions of the Western Division of the NFC. Both team and stadium had undergone building programs—and, although the Candlestick program was not yet complete, each took its place with the class of the NFL.

This year, testimony to the progress of Coach Dick Nolan's building program, the 49ers are again defending champions of the Western Division, and Candlestick Park building program is complete.

The completed stadium seats 61,-114 (last year it was 45,000). There are three major ticket plazas and entry areas, each served by escalators which will move spectators to and from the various seating levels. Every seat in the stadium is a chair-type plastic unit for comfort and durability.

Completely double decked and en-circled, the park features a 6,000-seat movable section and a total Astroturf playing surface to facilitate rapid conversion from baseball to football configuration.

Other facts:

Original ground-breaking for Candlestick Park was in 1958. The just-completed building program began November 19, 1969.

The stadium covers 14½-acres on an 82-acre site.

Stadium diameter is 680 feet at its shortest, 840 feet at its longest.

The highest point from field to roof is 120 feet.

There are 29 concession stands, 54 rest rooms.

There are parking spaces for 8,700 automobiles in the stadium lots, as well as space for 300 buses.

Stadium construction required 1,034 tons of structural steel, 8,000 tons of reinforcing steel and 50,000 cubic yards of concrete.

STADIUM DIRECTORY:

First Aid is located on the main level concourse opposite Section 7.

Police Station is located on main level concourse opposite Section 5.

Lost and Found is in the Burns Security Office on the mezzanine level opposite Section 7.

Telephones are located throughout the stadium. Specifically, at each ticket plaza, along the main concourse and along the upper mezzanine level.

"WILL CALL" window is at Gate A, south end of the stadium.

Gates, A, E and F provide escalator service to the upper seating levels and are reversible for exiting after the game.
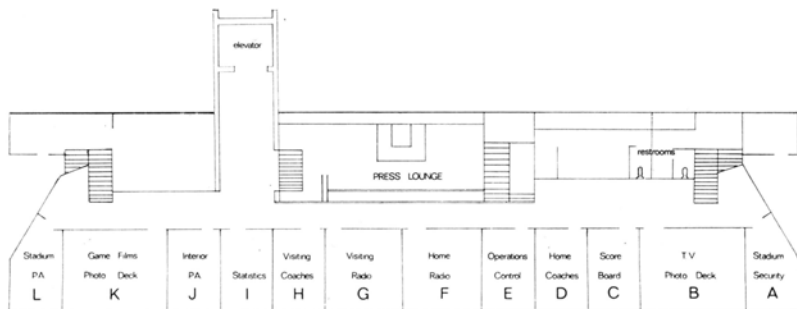

TICKET INFORMATION

Prices—Reserved seats, $7.50. General Admission, $5.50.

General admission tickets for each game will go on sale at Gate A, Candlestick Park each Saturday prior to a home game. There will be one exception this year—for the final game of the year, Saturday, December 16, against the Vikings, tickets will be on sale on Friday.

For further information, write Ticket Department, San Francisco 49ers, 1255 Post St., Suite 300, San Francisco, Calif. 94109. Telephone (415) 441-4900.

LOWER LEVEL

MEDIA INFORMATION

The football press box at Candlestick Park will open three hours prior to game time, as will the Curley Grieve Room (press room) on the promenade level. Lunch and other refreshments will be available in the press room, and there will be a snack bar in operation in the press box.

Western Union and Sportscom services will both be available in the press box and each will provide runners for copy.

All credential requests should be made to George McFadden in the 49er office no later than Wednesday prior to the game to be covered, if possible. No individual game credentials will be mailed. There is a special press "will call" booth at Gate A at Candlestick Park.

There is a limited amount of photo deck space available, so all requests for camera positions should be made as early as possible. When the space is all allocated, additional requests must be refused. Photo positions are on the second level of the press box and on the balcony areas on either end of the first level outside.

The press box is accessible only from the elevator from ground level. The elevator makes only one stop—at the press box.

With two minutes remaining in each game a member of the 49er public relations staff will guide writers to the team dressing rooms. From the elevator the group will walk the main concourse to the dressing room elevator. There will be no need to go onto the field.

Photographers working on the field are asked to check in at the dugout at the south end (first base line) of the stadium. They will be issued arm bands upon presentation of their credential. Food and drink will be available in the dugout at halftime.
